Riccardia pusilla (Steph.) E.A.Br., was treated as a synonym of Riccardia crassa by Söderström et al. (2016) overlooking that Brown and Braggins (1989) accepted the species. The name is illegitimate being a later homonym of Riccardia pusilla Grolle, and a new name is needed in Riccardia.

Blocking name: Riccardia pusilla Grolle, J. Jap. Bot. 41(8): 231 (Grolle 1966).

The epithet honours our late friend and colleague Elizabeth Brown who was an expert on the genus Riccardia in Australasia.

Riccardia browniae A.Hagborg et L. Söderstr. nom. nov.

≡ Aneura pusilla Steph., J. & Proc. R. Soc. New South Wales 48(1/2): 96, 1914 (Stephani and Watts 1914). Lectotype (Brown and Braggins 1989: 82): New South Wales, Blackheath, Watts 1051, Stephani herb. no. 11049 (G barcode G00113162).

≡ Riccardia pusilla (Steph.) E.A.Br., J. Hattori Bot. Lab. 669: 82 (Brown and Braggins 1989), nom. illeg. (ICN Art. 53.1, hom. illeg.).
