Acknowledgements

This work was a collaborative effort between Conservation International, CORDIO, the National Center for Environmental Research, the National Center for Oceanographic Research and the Wildlife Conservation Society. Conservation International wishes to thank all the participants to the RAP expedition, the captain and crew aboard the R/V Antsiva and Keith Ellenbogen (Blue Reef) for his photographic contribution. CI also wishes to thank all the staff involved in several stages of the project, particularly Kellee Koenig and Leeanne Alonso. We also thank Dr David Kingston from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University and Program Leader of ICBG Madagascar, and Andriambolantsoa Rasolohery and Finoana Rollande from CI Madagascar for the Mapping. Finally we are grateful to the reviewers for their invaluable feedback on the chapters of this report.

This work was made possible by the support of the The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation.
