Acknowledgments

This Rapid Assessment Programme survey would not have been possible without the help and assistance of many organizations and individuals. Foremost we thank the Fiji Water Foundation for the funds to enable this RAP survey to be carried out. We thank the following organizations for providing personnel for the RAP survey: South Pacific Regional Herbarium (SPRH), and the Institute of Applied Sciences of the University of the South Pacific, Conservation International (Fiji), National Trust of Fiji, Fiji Museum, Wetlands International – Oceania, NatureFiji-MareqetiViti, Fiji Department of Forestry and the Biology Division (University of the South Pacific).

The RAP was a success due to the outstanding contribution of the following individuals most of whom are affiliated to the above mentioned institutions. We appreciate the assistance of Arthur Whistler, Aaron Jenkins, Baravi Thaman, Kinikoto Mailautoka, Alivereti Naikatini, Jone Niukula, Senivalati Vido, Isaac Rounds, Nunia Thomas, Hilda Waqa-Sakiti, Tokasaya Cakacaka, Presly Dovo, Dick Watling, Sepeti Matararaba, Elia Nakoro, Talie Foliga, Gilianne Brodie, Sefanaia Nawadra, Ilaitia Finau and Marika Tuiwawa.

We thank the SPRH and Conservation International (Fiji) for organizing the approval and support for conducting the survey through the Ra Provincial Council and Office. Thank you to the Vanua of Naroko, Tokaimalo, Rakiraki and Natokea for their approval and blessings. Special mention goes to Assistant Roko – Amelia Ravu, Forestry Officer – Nemani Vuniwaqa, and the Mata ni Tikina of Tokaimalo and Naroko for paving the way. Without them things would have been so much harder to arrange.

Special thank you to the local land-owning communities of Narara, Nayaulevu Vatukaceveva and Vunisea villages for their support and generous hospitality. We would also like to thank all our local field guides and porters for their indispensable help and enthusiasm throughout the survey. We deeply appreciate the assistance of Miniroti, Kalaveti Ravulo, Sevuloni Vanavana, Belo, Tama i Ratu, Iosefo, Jone, Nemani, Avai and Saloma.

Gilianne Brodie would like to thank Professor Per Sundberg, University of Rothenburg (Sweden) for assistance with the identification of the nematomorphan (horsehair) worm.
