Peer review, effective and timely, is the basis of respect in today's scientific publishing and is essential to the maintenance of high standards in any journal. The efforts of reviewers are critical, yet unpaid. Therefore, we at the American Ornithological Society and The Auk: Ornithological Advances thank all of you who contributed reviews while Volume 134 was in preparation (reviews completed between July 2016 and June 2017). Individuals with asterisks next to their names reviewed two or more manuscripts.

The Auk: Ornithological Advances is also grateful for the work of our two dedicated editors; our busy and gender-balanced board of associate editors; the editors of In Memoriam, Book Reviews, and 100 Years Ago; and the expert editorial team members in the AOS Publications Office whose work made another successful year of The Auk possible. We invite all of our authors, referees, and society members, and ornithologists around the world, to continue supporting and publishing basic and broadly applicable ornithological science in our journal.
