BioOne Complete (complete.BioOne.org) is a full-text database of 200 subscribed and open-access titles in the biological, ecological, and environmental sciences published by nonprofit societies, associations, museums, institutions, and presses.

Your use of this PDF, the BioOne Complete website, and all posted and associated content indicates your acceptance of BioOne's Terms of Use, available at www.bioone.org/terms-of-use.

Usage of BioOne Complete content is strictly limited to personal, educational, and non - commercial use. Commercial inquiries or rights and permissions requests should be directed to the individual publisher as copyright holder.

BioOne sees sustainable scholarly publishing as an inherently collaborative enterprise connecting authors, nonprofit publishers, academic institutions, research libraries, and research funders in the common goal of maximizing access to critical research.

SUSTAINING MEMBERS

Sustaining members of the Wildlife Disease Association are members having particular interest in the objectives of the Association and who wish to make a significant contribution as determined by Council to support those objectives.

The Wildlife Disease Association is pleased to recognize the following sustaining member:

WILDLIFE CONSERVATION SOCIETY (WCS) FIELD VETERINARY PROGRAM

185th Street and Southern Boulevard
Bronx, New York 10460 USA

Between 2000 and 2005, the WCS Field Veterinary Program has made 1-yr memberships in the Wildlife Disease Association available to more than 250 scientists in less economically developed countries of the world! The participation of the WCS Field Veterinary Program contributes greatly to the mission of the Wildlife Disease Association.
