Figure S2.—Relative importance of variables based on exclusion from model relative to being included (a), and correlating the predicted values to values predicted when a variable is randomly permuted (b).